

Outstanding Quality & Great Value Book- Restoration, Archival Leathers and Natural skin parchments

For more than 85 years, the Franz Hoffmann wholesale- and export company in Stuttgart, Germany has been the leading specialist in fine leathers, bookbinding leathers, certified restoration or archival leathers, and natural skin parchments. We have been the trusted partner for generations of book restorers and paper conservators. Our company's exclusive focus on this sector brings many advantages, especially for budgeting of public and individual customer projects in high quality material supplies.

When you choose Franz Hoffmann Feinleder- Stuttgart, you can expect

- Individual, expert and personal advice and service
- Extensive technical guidance across a very broad product range
- Prompt service! This also applies the delivery of special colours and leather items outside of our main product range
- Strong competitive edge with easy flexibility on minimum orders of one (01) skin, by utilising very specific tanneries and parchment manufacturers
- rare available and partly hand made vegetable, sumac, aluminium or even combined aluminium – synthetic tanned options in nice uniform thicknesses fulfil the distinction of being the "unique" leather supplier
- All leathers are verified as especially high- quality, certified or even documented book- restoration leathers, having also the desired characteristics for beautiful embossing and tooling, in both blind and gold
- Our main options for supplies of hides or skins are based on pig, goat, sheep, SAVANNE® goat Aniline, KARAWANE® goat Aniline/ semi- Aniline, archival calf, CATHEDRAL® Book- Calf and bovine leather
- FHS book- restoration leathers and natural skin parchments are manufactured in environmentally friendly ways, without the use of Azo dyes and other pollutants, in accordance with the German Chemicals Prohibition Ordinance
